

Spotted Lanternfly

The Spotted Lanternfly is a brightly colored invasive insect originally from Asia. It feeds on grapes, apples, cherries, plums, and other crops. The Spotted Lanternfly is considered a high priority species. So if you see one, report it!