

Nutria

Nutria are large, invasive herbivorous rodents that swim and live by water. They only eat the roots and stems of wetland plants (about 10% of the plant), which kills the entire plant. This wastefulness makes them extremely destructive to wetlands.